Nathan Humphries of Carroll county, who had two barns and several head of stock destroyed by fire this winter, had another misfortune last week by drowning a pair of mules for which he had just paid $385. Tatum of south of Glasgow, and his old friends, knowing him as they do, have no hesitancy in saying that in making the appointment the court honored itself as well as the doctor.

A little after midnight Wednesday morning fire destroyed the barn on the farm of Geo. Engineer Thos. Harvey of Slater, was knocked off the tender of his engine at Farber, Mo., on Thursday of last week by the falling of coal from a coal chute and sustained injuries from which it is thought he cannot recover. He and his fireman, C. D. Lewis, had charge of train No. 3rd 86 and stopped at Farber for coal. The coal choked up in the chute and Mr. Harvey was standing on the tender assisting his fireman in starting it to run, when a large lump fell and struck him on the head, knocking him to the ground, where a large quantity of large lumps of coal fell on him, breaking both legs below the knees, and fracturing his skull. He was taken to the German hospital at Kansas City that afternoon, and was in a critical condition when he arrived there at about 8 o'clock in the evening. The railroad men of Slater who have made daily visits to the hospital do not bring any encouraging news. They learn from the physicians that there is but little, if any, hope of his recovery.—Slater Rustler.

MACON.

The following is a resolution adopted by the Commercial club of Macon: Resolved, that every man shall forget all rivalries and jealousies and work shoulder to shoulder for the purpose of making Macon a town of 20,000 or more in the next five years.

Work which was temporarily abandoned on the prospective oil wells in Macon and Randolph counties, last fall, will be resumed as soon as a sufficient quantity of water is secured in the ponds adjoining the wells to justify starting the engines.

Two women shoplifters were apprehended Saturday by Marshal Holvey, and $175 worth of stolen goods recovered. The defendants put up $75 cash for other goods taken, which they could not return and the proprietor of the store then waived prosecution. The women would go into the store, rolling a baby carriage, and while one would be negotiating for some article the other would hide things under a shawl, and then slip them into the baby carriage. Another house was loser to the extent of $127 through the dexterity of the same women. Their only excuse, when the officers discovered the stolen property, was that they had sickness in the family, and found it very hard to get along. The women were white, but one of them could not speak English. —Macon Times-Democrat.
